DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 4 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claim 1 recites a “Power Line Communications (PLC) interface.” Claim 1 further recites “an interface to a subscriber coaxial network.” Claim 6 recites “a plurality of MUT interfaces.” These “interfaces” are not disclosed in the written description.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 4-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 6,040,759 to Sanderson.

Regarding claim 4, Sanderson teaches a Multi-Tenant Unit (MTU) interface, comprising: a Power Line Communications (PLC) interface (Sanderson, abstract, broadband multimedia services are provided over high voltage power lines.); an interface to a subscriber coaxial network servicing multiple tenant units (Sanderson, abstract, broadband multimedia services between two locations. Fig. 9, coaxial cable connecting customer premises. See also, col. 9, line 1-60.); and a bi-directional bridge, adapted to provide bi-directional transport of standard media protocols from the PLC interface to the coaxial interface (Sanderson, fig. 3, bi-directional transport. See also fig. 6-7.).

Regarding claim 5, Sanderson teaches the MTU interface of claim 4, further comprising: the PLC interface adapted to extract RF signals from a power line network and to communicate the RF signals over the coaxial network (Sanderson, col. 5, line 10-67. See also at least fig. 3, col. 6, line 1-65. See also abstract.).

Regarding claim 6, Sanderson teaches a system comprising: a plurality of MTU interfaces, each MTU interface comprising a Power Line Communications (PLC) interface (Sanderson, abstract, broadband multimedia services are provided over high voltage power lines.), an interface to a subscriber coaxial network servicing multiple tenant units (Sanderson, abstract, broadband multimedia services between two locations. Fig. 9, coaxial cable connecting customer premises. See also, col. 9, line 1-60.), and a first bi-directional bridge; adapted to provide bi-directional transport of standard media protocols from the PLC interface to the coaxial interface (Sanderson, fig. 3, bi-directional transport. See also fig. 6-7.), the PLC interface adapted to extract RF signals from a power line network and to communicate the RF signals over the coaxial network (Sanderson, col. 5, line 10-67. See also at least fig. 3, col. 6, line 1-65. See also abstract.).

Regarding claim 7, Sanderson teaches a method comprising: applying an MTU interface to extract RF signals from a power line network and distribute the RF signals over a subscriber coaxial network to multiple tenant and/or office locations (Sanderson, col. 5, line 10-67. See also at least fig. 3, col. 6, line 1-65. See also abstract.).

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
